Commissioner Erregger has charge of the financial end of the work, Dr. Nichols of the applicants and Mr. Hapelyea is the practical farmer.

The singular success which Mayor Pingree's plan for providing for the unemployed poor an opportunity to derive the full benefit from their labor in tilling the vacant lots in the city of Detroit induced Mayor Schleren to try the scheme in Brooklyn. In very short order contributions to the amount of about $1,200 were received, and Edward F. Linton, a former Assemblyman, owner in the Twenty-sixth Ward, gave to the committee about twenty seres of land, located at Pennsylvania avenue, near New Lots road. The farm was operated last year for the first time, the scheme proving a success. This year new plans for the conduct of the enterprise have been de-

Under the arrangement last year the entire plot was apportioned among the poor families working it. Naturally, these people found it impossible to await the ripening of their crops. Therefore, this year it is intended to divide up the entire plot into parts one-half to be tilled for the purposes of marketing. The purport of the plot is to be divided, and paying them for such work 25 cents per day. This would help to bridge them

Another disadvantage of last year's method, which the committee hopes this Work of Ploughing Begun on year to obviate, is the method of reach of the way part of the city. The Brook-lyn Elevated Railroad has notified the committee that they will furnish free tickets on their road, for the use of the workby reason of the heavy travel the railroad finds it necessary to run a large number of empty cars one way, and therefore can.

without inconveniencing themselves, carry these people back and forth. Of the $1,200 raised last year by subscription, $600 was expended during the Summer. More than $600 worth of garden stuff was raised by the laborers on the the ploughing of the farm in the Twentythe materials, which, however, will not The ploughing of the farm in the Twenty-sixth Ward, which has been given to the city of Brooklyn fer tiliage purposes, was begun yesterday. This farm is intended to be conducted in conformity with the plans of Mayor Pingree, of Detroit. The entire undertaking is in the hands of a committee presided over by the Mayor of Brooklyn. A sub-committee, the chairman of which is Jacob W. Erregger, one of the only expense which the committee will be

They intend to enage a practical farm laborer to show the poor how to handle the plough and sow their seeds to the best advantage. As the land is good, arable soil, the outlook for the crops is promising.

Under the new plans it is expected that a great deal of the difficulty experienced last year from indiscriminate distributions of the land will be rectified. It is intended to look more carefully into the worthiness of the applicants for land, in order to prevent the applicants of their crops. Dr. Nichols, who has charge of the applications, proposes to run if in the same way that the wood yard, laundry and work room of the Bureau of Charittes is conducted.
